Mayor Cherie Wood

As a dedicated advocate for our City's well-being, I am often asked about the needs of our community. I take this question seriously, drawing insights from City events, neighborhood gatherings, and meaningful conversations. At the top of my list, I believe South Salt Lake residents need to know and believe that our City is a safe and welcoming place to call home.

Being a third-generation resident, my roots here run deep. My connection began in childhood, influenced by my mother's tenure at City Hall and my friendship with the daughter of former Mayor Jim Davis. I fondly remember visiting the Davis' home. Sometimes, her dad would ask us to join him while he "Put the City to Bed", which he did every night to ensure that all City offices, parks, and facilities were secure. Throughout my upbringing, by participating in various City events, engaging in volunteer opportunities, and interacting with my neighbors have all significantly deepened my appreciation for civic duty and the importance of community care.

While much has changed since then, as your Mayor, I remain committed to safeguarding our city and nurturing the close-knit community I cherish. Your safety is my top priority. This year, despite its challenges, we made significant strides in infrastructure, public safety, and laying the foundation for new affordable housing. We're just beginning to bring these improvements to fruition, enhancing life for South Salt Lake residents.

I invite you to attend one of our Promise SSL monthly tours, held on the third Thursday of each month (posted on the calendar at sslc.gov) at the Promise SSL offices in City Hall, to witness firsthand how this city department is fundamentally improving lives and connecting our community.

Building a Safer and More Inclusive South Salt Lake

But as your Mayor, I also strive to bring you the little things that enhance your everyday life. If you haven't heard of our Promise SSL program, I encourage you to take a moment to learn about this afterschool initiative that touches the lives of so many youth and families in South Salt Lake. Soon after taking office in 2009, I recognized the need for safe and inclusive afterschool programs that offer not only security but also a nurturing environment. Through hard work and dedication, we secured funds to provide free afterschool care for our community. These programs offer enrichment activities, evening meals, and positive social interactions in 14 of our schools and community centers.

By communicating and listening to your needs, we can make our city better and more inclusive. There's always room at the table for everyone as we strive to nurture our community and I welcome and appreciate you being here.

Wishing you all a safe and happy holiday season!

Merry & Bright Yard Awards

'Tis the season to spread some holiday cheer! The South Salt Lake Merry and Bright Award recognizes those who go above and beyond to brighten up the dark winter months—the most “lit” houses in the City, one might say. Winners of this prestigious award can enjoy a festive yard sign and bragging rights that last all year long. Nominate the best-decorated house in your neighborhood (even if it's your own) by filling out the Merry and Bright nomination form at sslc.gov

Stay Safe on the Road

- Avoid parking on the street during or after a snow storm. Give snow plows plenty of space to do their job effectively.
- Keep an emergency kit in your car. Winter driving can be dangerous—keep essential supplies in your car that can keep you safe if you become stranded in the cold.
- Give yourself plenty of time to clear snow off your car and fully defrost your windshield.
- Visit sslc.gov for more winter driving tips

Snow Shoveling Tips and Tricks

- Shovel within 24 hours of a snowstorm. The longer you wait, the harder it will be!
- Don't shovel into the street. Pile snow onto your yard where it won't interfere with traffic and can melt into the ground.
- If you have a fire hydrant in your yard, help firefighters by keeping it clear of ice and snow. Maintain a path from the hydrant to the street, and clear a perimeter three feet around the hydrant.

Congratulations, Natalie!

As Natalie Pinkney leaves the South Salt Lake City Council to join the Salt Lake County Council, the City now has a vacant At-large Council seat to fill.

If you or someone you know is interested in applying for this role as the interim Council member until a special election is held, visit our website to learn more.

Fire Department Welcomes New Chaplain to the Team

The SSL Fire Department has a new volunteer chaplain. Mont Roosendaal has a long history with the City of South Salt Lake. He enjoyed a storied 28-year career with the City as a Public Works mechanic, Fleet Manager, and Public Asset & Fleet Director. During that time, he worked closely with the Fire Department to design and maintain their firetrucks and other vehicles. Now, three years after his retirement from the Public Works Department, he is supporting firefighters in a different way as the department's volunteer chaplain.

Roosendaal is a non-denominational chaplain, which means that he doesn't work within the confines of one religion. In fact, he says he dislikes the word religion in general. He strives to meet people where they are and offer assistance and comfort in any way he can.

His work as chaplain includes rotating among South Salt Lake's three fire stations and responding to calls with the department to assist emergency victims and their family members. Roosendaal places great value on family—a term that he defines broadly. He wants to help families in times of crises, support the families of firefighters around the grueling schedule and stress of the job, and strengthen the family bonds of the department itself. In his own words, "I'm dedicated to this city. It's family to me."

Protecting Yourself & Your Property During the Holiday Season

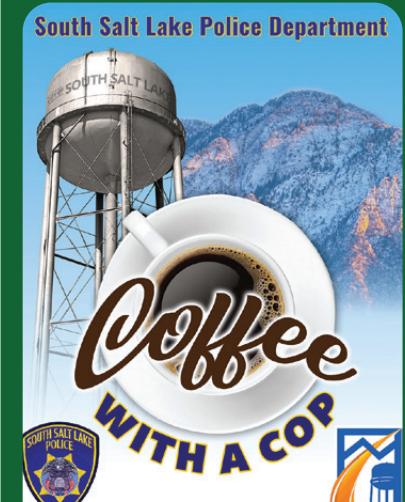

Message from SSLPD Chief Danielle Croyle

We all love the holiday season—including criminals. One issue that has become increasingly common during this time of year is holiday package theft. Remember the importance of crime prevention and taking the necessary precautions to protect yourself and your belongings.

- Report Theft to the Shipping Carrier. If your package is stolen, make sure to report it immediately to the shipping carrier (UPS, FedEx, USPS) to help them investigate and take appropriate action.
- Consider Insurance. It is always a good idea to invest in shipping insurance for valuable items just in case they get lost or stolen.
- Use a Lockbox. If you are expecting a delivery and won't be home to receive it, consider getting a lockbox to secure your package so the delivery person can drop it off without leaving it unattended.
- Deliver to a Place Where Someone Is Home. If possible, have your packages delivered to a location where someone is present to receive them, such as a friend or family member's house or your workplace.
- Consider Having Packages Delivered to a Business. Many businesses, such as post offices and shipping stores, offer package receiving services. This can be a good option if you won't be home to receive a package.
- Call the South Salt Lake Police to Report the Theft. If you do fall victim to package theft, be sure to report it to the police so they can investigate and take appropriate action.

TREE UPDATE!
SOUTH SALT LAKE URBAN FORESTRY

We're wrapping up our inventory and canopy assessment to better understand the trees in our city!

So far, we've counted and mapped 3,347 trees found along streets and at city parks and facilities.

Our next step is to create a management plan to continue to care for and expand our urban forest.

Follow along and see more tree data at sslc.gov > Neighborhoods

The most common tree species we've found are Bradford pears, Honeylocusts, and Crabapples.

Community & Economic Development

South Salt Lake is the Busiest It's Ever Been – Let's Help Keep Them Busy

Small businesses are the cornerstone of the American economy, and it's no different here in South Salt Lake. Our local business community is part of what sculpts our identity: small, tenacious, and gritty. They are vital contributors to the tax base and help keep dollars in our local economy. The majority of new jobs come from small businesses, and their local touch provides an elevated customer service experience.

The South Salt Lake Community and Economic Development Department works hard to support the more than 3,000 businesses in our City, and we hope you join us this holiday season...and beyond. Next time you want to dine in or take out, buy a car or get one serviced, shop for the perfect holiday present or house warming gift, or anything else you may need, check South Salt Lake first and support local when possible.

The South Salt Lake Chamber of Commerce is working with our business community to offer special deals and perks over the holiday season. See the offerings on the Chamber website at sslchamber.com. When you support our local community, you're helping build opportunity.

Woodrow Wilson Afterschool Takes On City Clean Up

The Woodrow Wilson Afterschool Program has taken on a unique service project to benefit the City of South Salt Lake by adopting local storm drains! Since adopting these drains on Main Street, affectionately named Shrek, Bill and Georgie, youth have learned about the importance of storm drain maintenance and cleaning to protect our local waterways. This hands-on project not only benefits the immediate surroundings of our program participants, where they go to school and live, but it teaches the youth about environmental stewardship and how small actions can make a big difference.

Bimbo Bakeries Helps Freshen Up Hser Ner Moo Afterschool Program

The Hser Ner Moo Afterschool Program got an upgrade thanks to Bimbo Bakeries and their amazing staff! With incredible energy and dedication, they spent a few hours building new furniture, organizing, and helping to update our classroom space at the South Salt Lake Community Center. Their support means our youth can now enjoy a refreshed, welcoming environment that enhances their learning each day. It is now a brighter and more inviting space that the youth have fully embraced. Thank you, Bimbo Bakeries, for helping us make a difference for our youth and families!
